

News
News releases and statements
Lone female paramedic assaulted while on duty
Advice on what to do after an acid attack
Response to the Government's announcement on new ambulance service standards
Patients receiving outstanding care from London Ambulance Service
Statement on fire in North Kensington
New Chief Executive joins London Ambulance Service
Statement on incident at Westminster
London Ambulance Service releases 999 call to show shocking abuse of call handlers
London Ambulance Service 111 call centre rated 'good' by health regulator
Investigation launched following computer outage
A busy night for London Ambulance Service as London welcomes in the new year
Noel retires on Christmas Eve
Getting drunk is not a game, says London Ambulance Service's festive campaign
London Ambulance Service chief executive retires
Unprecedented 999 demand as London Ambulance responds to record numbers of patients
London Ambulance Service staff celebrate service
Ambulance medic celebrates more than 40 years of service
Ambulance medic honoured for more than 40 years of service
Paying tribute to Eric Roberts, Unison Branch Secretary
Two hundred new ambulance vehicles for London

Statement on incident at Westminster

23 March 2017

Updated at 12:30pm

Dr Fenella Wrigley, Medical Director at London Ambulance Service said:

"Today our thoughts are with those affected by the incident and their friends and families.

"This type of incident is something we hope never happens but, as we showed yesterday, we are always prepared to respond.

"We have specialist response teams trained to deal with this type of incident and they were on scene quickly yesterday treating patients.

"We worked closely with our emergency service colleagues at the scene to ensure that we responded to the sickest patients quickest.

"We took 23 patients to hospital, with a variety of injuries. A number of these patients were seriously injured.

"Our paramedics and ambulance crews at the scene did an exceptional job in incredibly difficult circumstances. They stayed calm and provided excellent care to those affected.

"I am incredibly proud and grateful for the work of our staff and our emergency service colleagues."

22 March 2017

Updated at 10:00pm

London Ambulance Service Deputy Director of Operations, Pauline Cranmer, said:

"Today 68 paramedics and ambulance crews responded to the terrorist attack in Westminster along with staff in our control room.

"On behalf of everyone at London Ambulance Service, I would like to express our deepest condolences to the family, friends and colleagues of the police officer who sadly died today.

"Our thoughts are also with all those affected by today's incident.

"And I would like to thank all the ambulance staff who responded today alongside our emergency services colleagues."

Ends

Updated at 7:45pm

London Ambulance Service Deputy Director of Operations Pauline Cranmer said:

"Our thoughts are with the friends and families of those affected by today's incident.

"We treated 12 patients for serious injuries, who were all taken to hospital. Eight further patients were treated for less serious injuries at the scene. Sadly, three people also died at the scene.

"We were called to the incident at 2.40pm today, with the first ambulance crew arriving within six minutes.

"We sent a number of resources to the scene including ambulance crews, London's Air Ambulance and specialist teams trained to respond to this type of incident.

Paramedics half-century of saving lives in London	"We have been working closely with other members of the emergency services at the scene, with our priority being to ensure patients received the medical help they needed as quickly as possible.
Statement - Road traffic collision on Ladbrooke Grove	"We declared a major incident and our priority was to assess patients and ensure that they were treated and taken to hospital as soon as possible.
Statement - Croydon tram incident	"I would like to thank our staff and the other emergency services who responded today.
London Ambulance Service medics attacked with fireworks	"Members of the public who are concerned about friends and relatives should contact the police Casualty Bureau on 0800 056 0944 or 020 7158 0010."
Remember Remember stay safe this November	Ends
TV documentary prompts pizza praise	Updated at 4:45pm
Service joins 100 black taxis on the Children's Magical Taxi Tour	London Ambulance Service Deputy Director of Operations Pauline Cranmer said:
Annual public meeting Tuesday 27 September	"We can confirm we have treated at least 10 patients on Westminster Bridge and have put a number of hospitals on alert as we continue to respond to this incident.
London Ambulance offers viewers unprecedented access in new TV series	"We were called at 2.40pm today, with the first ambulance crew arriving within six minutes.
Lennard Road - Road Traffic Collision, 31 August 2016	"We have sent a number of resources to the scene including ambulance crews, London's Air Ambulance and our Hazardous Area Response Team.
Over 1000 people treated at Notting Hill Carnival	"We are working closely with other members of the emergency services at the scene, with our priority being to ensure patients receive the medical help they need as quickly as possible.
Fire in Harrow	"We have declared a major incident and our priority is to assess patients and ensure that they are treated and taken to hospital as soon as possible.
Hundreds more clinical staff on the frontline but not enough people from BME backgrounds	"As we are very busy dealing with this incident, we would ask the public to only call us in a genuine emergency."
Paramedics praise five year old boy for helping to save his nan's life	Ends
Hundreds more emergency calls in London because of hot weather	Updated at 3:40pm
Paramedic features in latest Historic England exhibition	London Ambulance Service Deputy Director of Operations Pauline Cranmer said:
Thief steals London Ambulance Service bike	"We were called at 2.40pm to Westminster Bridge to reports of an incident, with the first crew arriving within six minutes.
Remembering 7 July 2005	"We have sent a number of resources to the scene including ambulance crews, London's Air Ambulance and our Hazardous Area Response Team.
Chief Executive speaks at launch of Living on the Edge report	"We are working closely with other members of the emergency services at the scene, with our priority being to ensure patients receive the medical help they need as quickly as possible.
Eat, Drink and Be Safe as Euro 2016 kicks off	"We have declared a major incident and our priority is to assess patients and ensure that they are treated and taken to hospital as soon as possible.
Paramedic honoured at Buckingham Palace	"As we are very busy dealing with this incident, we would ask the public to only call us in a genuine emergency."
Incident in Russell Square, WC1	Ends
Smartphone app alert helps volunteer first aiders save a life	Updated at 3:15pm
Ealing butcher praises London Ambulance Service medics for excellent care	London Ambulance Service Deputy Director of Operations Pauline Cranmer said:
Fire in Shepherds Bush	"We were called at 2.40pm to Westminster Bridge to reports of an incident.
Increase in assaults on London Ambulance Service staff
Hero ambulance medic stops moped muggers in their tracks

London Ambulance Service gets ready for Notting Hill Carnival

We have sent a number of resources to the scene including ambulance crews, London's Air Ambulance and our Hazardous Area Response Team.

Medic's bright idea makes ambulance crews even more accessible to blind patients

We will issue more information when we have it."

ENDS

Incident at London City Airport

Incident at London City Airport

London Ambulance Service gears up for this weekend's Mad Friday

Skip the dreaded tinsel-itis and have your medication ready this Christmas

Ten years in the hot zone

Busiest night ever predicted for London Ambulance Service this New Year

Technical issues in our control room

London Ambulance medic honoured with Queen's Ambulance Service Medal

Don't get caught out in the cold, warns London Ambulance Service

Medics to provide life-saving support to refugee camps

Statement on incident in Southend Arterial Road

Prince Harry visits London Ambulance Service to launch Time to Talk Day

Innovator behind London's cycle paramedics praised at Healthcare Heroes exhibition

Fate brings man together with paramedic who helped save his life

Leadership team strengthened with two new non-executive directors

London Ambulance Service responds to Storm Doris

Card launched to improve safety of expectant mothers

Banker thanks life savers with charity run

New spit kits issued to track down offenders who spit at London's life savers

Prince William visits ambulance staff who treated patients in Westminster attack

Stock up on medication ahead of the long weekend, warns ambulance service

Statement following an incident on Warburton Road, E8.

London Ambulance Service appoints new Chief Executive

London Ambulance Service medic honoured at Buckingham Palace

Firefighter grants paramedic a final goodbye with fiancée

Paramedic who apprehended a violent criminal is awarded police commendation

Statement on the incident at London Bridge

Statement on the incident at Seven Sisters Road

Thousands more emergency calls during hottest week of the year

Investigation into 999 computer system outage on New Year's Day 2017

London Ambulance Service leads the way at Pride in London

Life-saving defibrillators rolled out across London thanks to emergency services partnership

News archive

BBC: Ambulance

TV and radio

Follow us on social media

Alcohol-related 999 incidents

Crash24 - Tuesday 6 December 2011

Taking care in the hot weather

Use us wisely

Give blood

Know your blood pressure